Neonatal Resuscitation Program (NRP)
Day: 10th May 2026

On 10th May 2026, the College of Nursing, AIIMS Bibinagar, in collaboration with National Neonatology Forum India, successfully conducted a half day Neonatal Resuscitation Program (NRP) training for 55 nurses from across Telangana.

The training programme aimed to strengthen the competencies of nursing professionals in essential newborn care and neonatal resuscitation practices. The course was coordinated by Dr. S.K. Mohanasundari and Mrs. Era Deepika Dayal, Faculty, College of Nursing, AIIMS Bibinagar. The Telangana Nurses and Midwives council granted 5 credit points for this program.

The facilitators for the programme included Dr. S. Thanigainathan (Asso Prof and Head), Dr. Gurrarsh Singh, and Dr. B. V.P. Divya (DM Residents) from the department of Neonatology, AIIMS Bibinagar along with the course coordinators.

The sessions focused on key aspects of neonatal resuscitation, including preparation of the delivery room, routine newborn care, and initial steps of resuscitation with emphasis on bag and mask ventilation for newborns. The programme provided participants with hands-on learning opportunities and reinforced evidence-based practices essential for improving neonatal outcomes.
